SPOTLIGHT

During last summer, Connecticut was fortunate enough to host The Special Olympics World Games in New Haven. Towns across the region held many fundraisers and events to help raise money so that they would be able to support and host athletes from around the globe. Virtually every town in the area was able to host a certain country.

Suffield supported the team from Costa Rica. Various events were planned and carried out from their arrival straight through until they left for home. They began with a town picnic and a welcome dinner at The Old Country Buffet in Enfield. The athletes stayed with many volunteer host families throughout town for the duration of their time here in the United States. Mrs. Pat Smith was one of the host families and can be seen in the photo at the left in the gazebo.

Two very talented students from Suffield High School participated in The Special Olympic World Games. Josiah Beaulier and Eric Haas both participated in the Special Olympic softball games. Their team, Windfield Slammers, finished second in the A Division. Josiah played left field position and Eric played the position of catcher.

During this past fall, Eric Haas participated in various bicycling events around the state. He earned a gold medal in the 5k and another in the 10k. In addition to these successes, he was also awarded gold medals in the 400 meter and 1600 meter track and field events.

Congratulations guys! We all commend you on your achievements!

ATHLETES

Congratulations Chris Stone!! 1000 Points

On January 31, 1996 Christopher Raymond Stone was awarded the 1,000 Point Award in basketball at Ellington High School. He is only the fifth member of the SHS mens basketball team to receive this honor. Chris is also the second highest all time scorer in SHS history. We thank him for his outstanding job over the past four years and wish him success in the future.

Andrew Leis a 2000 Olympic hopeful, has been taking gymnastics since the age of 10. This past May, Andrew traveled to California to compete in his third Junior Olympics. He is now ranked fourth in the nation on pommel horse. Andrew is a gymnast at the Tim Dagget Gold Medal Gymnastics School, a State Champion and Class I Gymnast. Good Luck in the future!

M.K., R.T., and M.C. get all of his tremendous hits, scrapes, bruises, cuts, punches, hacks, slashes, kicks, trips, gashes, pushes, elbows, knees, tackles, and any other unnecessary, over-aggressive, super hard, rageful, eye covering hits. But we had such a lot of fun playing pool, spending the weekend together, hours on the phone while cleaning the kitchen, Swan Sea (Okay, so maybe that wasn't fun!), and we had one thing in common — we both loved MacKenzie to death. I'm sorry for all the trouble I caused you. To A.D., K.C., and J.W. keyboarding class. You are my favorite freshman. To M.D., who I hope will read this someday, you were my all time best friend. We have so many memories that even if I bothered to write them down, it wouldn't even fit in this entire yearbook. We have gone through many boyfriends, laughed and cried together, argued, stopped speaking, but through it all, we've remained friends. I will always remember you. You were the only person who gave me a chance when no one else would and turned me into the person who I am today and because of that, I will love you til the day I die. To my parents, thank you for all your love and support. I know that I can be unbearable but you still put up with me. I love you. To the rest of my family: Tom and Grace, Thomas and Gina, Phil and Brian, I know I never say it, but I love you all so much and without any of you, I wouldn't be anybody. Leaves S.L. and L.R. the memory of getting lost in the south end of Boston — "I don't think I like this place!" ... our afternoon coffee breaks ... Suffield Pizza ... Fitchburg State ... "You Chicopee boys are a bad influence on me" ... throwing pepperoni ... fights about your interesting picks of women. Thanks for everything — even the depressing talks! M.D. The hardest thing I've had to do in high school was say good-bye to you. I will always remember Edy's chocolate fudge mouse ice cream — two spoons

... bad boyfriends ... "let's start now so Lisa won't yell at us when she gets here" ... scary movies ... Thanks for being a friend. Take care of yourself, sweetie. My love will be there when I cannot. L.G. We've grown apart these past months and I'm sorry for that. Since we've become friends we've shared a lot ... Swansea ... the love for older men (even shared a few now and then) ... kitchen talks ... money problems ... our manipulative ways. Have a great life and follow your every dream. R.B. You are one of my better friends. We have a lot of stories to tell ... "Linnea Shook the Earth" ... playground madness ... fights with Bobby ... Northampton stories ... No way! Shockers ... yearbook ... we've talked a lot and know a lot about each other. Some people stay friends through convenience but not us, no matter what, you always find the time to say "hello." Here's a rib pinch for ya! And tell me again why you changed your name? A.D. You're a cool kid. I am leaving you with a water gun and a white shirt (for me only). It's too bad our little lie could not be true. A&P/CVS is only the beginning for you. You will always be my "hero." Go far in life and excel in what you do best. Smile for the camera! C.J., it means so much to that you still care. I miss the old McAlister days with you. You always treated me well. I was never just a girlfriend but always a friend. I admire that. I am sorry that other people got in our way. I would change that if I could go back in time. Our talks went on forever but time stood still. When times are tough, smile, I'm thinking about you. I will always love and care about you. E.S. Well, you were wrong, G.A. was never in my high school romance list so there! Do you even know what cotton is? I can never forget your "Oh so sexy silk shirts"; just knowing you makes my wardrobe look better. We've shared many secrets that I will bring to my grave in hopes you will do the same. The best of luck to you in the modeling and fashion industry and ah, don't you dare become a snob! Joey and Tara Sullivan, just wait until your wedding day when I'll toast to you saying "I changed your diapers." Follow your dreams, they will take you to new heights. I love you, stay young. Mom and Dad, thank you for the best years of my life. You always believe in me in everything I do, without that I would have nothing. I will never forget that. I love you both. To the class of 1996, well WE DID IT! Individuals we are, a class we will remain. It's been an experience that we will probably all remember, except for those foggy Mondays where we had no clue what took place that past weekend. Happy graduation to all and to all a good night.

Haley Spears

The past four years have had all kinds of emotions, not to mention the previous years. Many memories were made. Some of the things left a bigger impression than others here are a few ... K.J. push your car and it will move! "Tara, you have a funny sense of humor." "That'll be five dollars." That's not funny, that is just Chris. "T," remember these ... They are really not bad. Someday I think you'll understand that it's not gross! People tend to look better all the time when you love them for who they are! ... Here's your advice column; one you can always follow! 1. Don't drool over guys too much. Well it's O.K., just don't make it too obvious to them. Give 'em a little challenge. Try not to fall for pranks like — I ran out of gas and only have two quarters left ... see we challenged Jason to keep up with us, did a good job of loosing him and sure enough he showed back up at your house. You've gotta admit that was pretty funny though. It's too bad we never found that party! One day I hope it will be good for you "Big T."

My mom has always told me that good things don't come easy and that you usually have to work hard for them. Scarey? Yes, but not because it's you; but because it could happen so soon; we are so young! I'd rather be with you when I'm scared, and scared when I'm with you, than any one else if it is going to happen, because I trust you. Young in love, Will it end? Do you want it to? Shut-up Kelly, I know I analyze. What, why, when, who, etc. Well Chris, however we end up, I wish you the best. I only ask three things: have fun, be careful, and be true to your self! I will always be there for you, you know the exceptions, and you will always be with me in my heart! Your one of a kind. I'm only selfish because I don't want you to get hurt. Thanks for all the memories, may we have many more and good ones!

Get your career off to a flying start

If you're serious about your future there's no better place to get started than the Army National Guard Aviation. You'll be part of a long tradition that started with the coming of the first airplane. Working alongside dedicated men and women you'll get the chance to work with the latest technology on some pretty heavy equipment. And, all the while you'll be developing the skills and expertise you need to move your career ahead.

On the ground, or in the air, you can be sure that your days with us will be packed with experiences you can use for a lifetime.

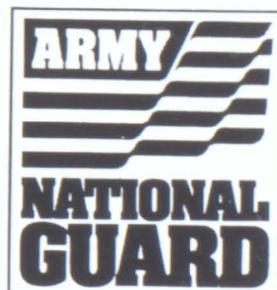

We'll give you hands on training in the skills you'll need to do a job and do it correctly. Including computers, communications, electronics, or any number of other technical areas. The best thing is that the skills you learn can help you in the civilian job market. All it takes is about two days a month and two weeks a year to be a member. Which is not much when you consider the benefits.

Besides training, you'll be eligible to attend any state college or university in Connecticut TUITION FREE to continue education. Plus there is the Montgomery G.I. Bill that will pay you up to $192 month for every month you go to school.

Army Guard Aviation can offer you the excitement and adventure you seek, while giving you the skills you need to be a success. It can also open a whole new world of career possibilities for you.

For more information contact your local Guard representative at 623-4551 or call us toll-free at 1-800-842-2274.

"To laugh often and love much; to win the respect of intelligent persons and the affection of children; to earn the approbation of honest citizens and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to give of one's self; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to have played and laughed with enthusiasm and sung with exultation; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived — this is to have succeeded."

We the 1996 Sagitta staff would like to express our many thanks to everyone who has helped us to create a wonderful yearbook! Most of all we would like to thank Mrs. Libby Deedy (1996 yearbook advisor), Mr. Denny Galvin (Taylor Publishing Representative), and Mr. Rick Jensen (1995 - 1996 yearbook advisor) for all of their hard work and effort that often times was done without recognition. Without their kindness, generosity, and devotion, this book would not be possible.
